There's a Lot to Love at this Year's ArtiGras

The Palm Beach North Chamber of Commerce is thrilled to produce the 36th ArtiGras Fine Arts Festival. This year we invite you to experience the ArtiGras you know and love, with a few exciting changes.

You may notice this year's festival has a fresh presenting sponsor in the Hanley Foundation, but the partnership is far from new. The organization has been involved with ArtiGras for the last six years sponsoring the Hanley Foundation ArtiKids Zone and the Youth Art Competition. Hanley Foundation's mission of family time being time well-spent, perfectly aligns with our family-friendly festival.

One undeniable change attendees will enjoy, is our new and beautiful event location. After 20 years, ArtiGras is moving back to Palm Beach Gardens and will now be held at the Gardens North County District Park. The 82-acre park, opened in the summer of 2019, offers spacious fields conducive for social-distancing, a key element of this year's event. We are delighted with the move and the opportunities for growth that it permits.

That leads us to the next changes you'll see – enhanced health & safety precautions. We are committed to producing a safe and welcoming event. We will have numerous measures in place to ensure the well-being of our patrons, artists, and volunteers at all times. You can find our COVID-19 precautions within this booklet and on our website.

When we say there is a lot to love this year, we mean it. This year's theme, "For the Love of Art," is an homage to the fact that ArtiGras falls on Valentine's Day weekend, although there is a much deeper meaning.

Throughout the pandemic, the arts community has suffered countless event cancellations, which hinders the ability to share their work and leaves communities unable to access the arts they love. As one of the first art festivals to return in Palm Beach County, we are committed to aiding in the recovery of this vibrant and essential community by providing a safe venue for artists and patrons to connect.

We invite you to join us February 13-14 at the Gardens North County District Park for the 36th Annual ArtiGras Fine Arts Festival. We know you're going to love it.

Sincerely,

Noel Martinez, President & CEO
Palm Beach North Chamber of Commerce

John Carr, Chairman
ArtiGras Fine Arts Festival

We are committed to having a safe and welcoming event. We understand things change daily; our plans will always follow local governmental protocols and recommendations from the CDC at the time of the event. Here are some precautions we are taking:

WEAR YOUR MASK AT ALL TIMES
UNLESS ACTIVELY EATING OR DRINKING

NO SMOKING OR VAPING

WASH HANDS REGULARLY

HIGH TOUCH SURFACES ARE CLEANED REGULARLY

PLEASE KEEP 6 FEET APART

Tampa General Hospital.

As one of the state's leading academic medical centers and one of the nation's best hospitals, Tampa General provides specialized medicine and world-class care. We're one of the nation's busiest hospitals, and for good reason. More patients seek out TGH because they know our physicians perform more procedures, making them more proficient and experienced in delivering the critical care patients need. We're Florida's highest-ranked hospital in multiple specialties — and your best choice for lifesaving care.

Festival Highlights

The ArtiKids Zone

The ArtiKids Zone might look a little different this year, but it will be just as fun! Little ones will enjoy “Take & Make” Projects from a variety of organizations.

The local arts organizations and businesses that help sponsor our activities include Abby’s Performing Arts Coaching, South Florida Science Center & Aquarium, PBG Youth Athletic Association, Entertainment by Hearts, i9 Sports, Gardens School of Technology Arts and JupiterBounce.com. Student artwork submitted by K-12 art programs in Palm Beach County for the Youth Art Competition will also be on display.

Youth Art Competition

Local public and private schools, grades K-12, created art works and compete for money for their school’s art department. Approximately 110 youth art pieces in this countywide competition are displayed at ArtiGras. Though we won’t be having our award ceremony this year, art by our finalists is on display the entire weekend.

Emerging Artists

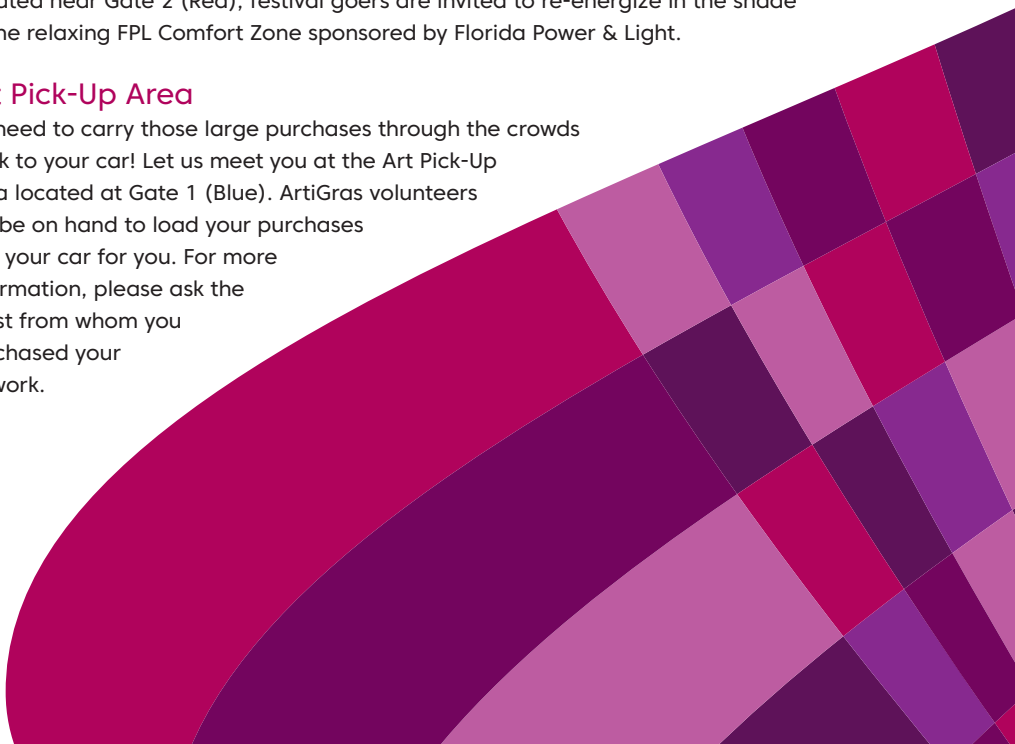

This year, the festival features 4 new and 2 returning emerging artists from the Palm Beach County area who are exhibiting for the first time at an outdoor art festival. These artists have participated in a vigorous training program with ArtiGras staff and other artists and experts over the past 6 months. Patrons are invited to discover and purchase art that has been created by these artists in their “own backyard.”

FPL Comfort Zone

Located near Gate 2 (Red), festival goers are invited to re-energize in the shade of the relaxing FPL Comfort Zone sponsored by Florida Power & Light.

Art Pick-Up Area

No need to carry those large purchases through the crowds back to your car! Let us meet you at the Art Pick-Up Area located at Gate 1 (Blue). ArtiGras volunteers will be on hand to load your purchases into your car for you. For more Information, please ask the artist from whom you purchased your artwork.

Meet The Poster Artist

Christine Adele's love of art started at an early age thanks to her artist mother. Christine was surrounded by art growing up and then studied fine art in college, so it is no surprise this Bonita Springs resident was selected to be this year's ArtiGras poster artist with theme being "Love of Art". Her piece title "Delightful" hit the mark.

"Making art has been my passion since childhood. I love every minute of every day, because I do what I love and love what I do," said Christine who grew up in New Jersey.

"Delightful" is an acrylic painting on canvas highlighted by finishing touches with oil paint. The main imagery is the iconic Jupiter Lighthouse surrounded by different types of fish and colorful larger-than-life hibiscuses.

"I spent time in Jupiter several years ago while doing a mural project in Stuart. My children, who were little at the time, spent their days at a horse camp while I worked. Nearly every day after work and camp, we'd go to the beach and enjoy the sand, surf and view. My painting reflects the beautiful loving memories I have of that month," said Christine, who will be showing at ArtiGras for the first time.

Christine joined the art festival circuit in 2017 but has been a successful professional artist her entire adult life. This will be the first time she has been selected as a festival poster artist, but not her last. The painter has also been selected as a poster artist for an upcoming show in Sarasota.
